

The Daily Item

Your Independent North Shore Newspaper Since 1877

Monday, January 19, 2009

Shop Talk: Bridgewell appoints new officers

By David Liscio / The Daily Item

Lynnfield-based Bridgewell, a non-profit human service agency supporting those with disabilities, has named its Board of Directors for 2009.

According to Jannelyn Spratt, Bridgewell director of public relations and marketing, Gordon Massey will continue as board president for a second year. Massey, a Gloucester resident, is vice present at the Salem Five Bank.

Carla M. Saccone, a Melrose resident, was re-elected to a second term as Bridgewell board vice president. Saccone is vice president for programs at the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

David E. Brown was elected board treasurer. Brown, an Acton resident, is executive director of the Financial Services Advisory Group of Carlin Charron and Rosen, LLP. Catherine J. Flood of Lowell was elected to serve as Bridgewell's board clerk and treasurer for a second term. Flood is an attorney with the Flood Law Offices in Lowell.

Bridgewell, headquartered at 471 Broadway, provides services throughout the North Shore and Merrimack Valley.

"The agency is dedicated to supporting and helping individuals with disabilities to direct their own lives, achieve personal and professional success and remain active participants in society," said Spratt, adding that Bridgewell provides residential and day services, affordable housing and homeless services, clinical services, children's and recreational services as well as employment training and educational services. For more about Bridgewell, go online to www.bridgewell.org.